The members of the 2022 Nominating Committee are:

David Levin (University of Oregon)
Veronica Lippencott (Hofstra University)
[David Sanders (Purdue University) – Resigned]

The committee worked to recruit and review candidates for the 2022 Council election. A call for nominations was published in the November/December issue of Academe, and multiple electronic notices and reminder emails were sent to all members and to chapter leaders from November up until the March 15 deadline. Complete information about the nominations process also was posted on the AAUP website.

In 2022, the Biennial Meeting will elect one at-large Council member position and one position in each of the five regions. The nominating committee sought to find at least two candidates for each position. The process resulted in 15 candidates completing the requirements to be placed on the ballot and one nominating petition withdrawn. The list of candidates is below.

Council Members

At Large
-- Ernesto Longa, University of New Mexico
-- Diana Rios, University of Connecticut

Region 1 (Alaska, Arizona, California, Colorado, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Washington, Wyoming, American Samoa, Guam, Northern Mariana Islands)
-- Kent Ervin, University of Nevada, Reno
-- Antonio Gallo, California State University, Northridge
-- Louisa Hooven, Oregon State University
-- Raphi Rechitsky, National University
Region 2 (Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, West Virginia)
--Mitchell Brown, Auburn University*
--Matthew Boedy, University of North Georgia
--Karin Rosemblatt, University of Maryland, College Park

Region 3 (Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Canada)
--John McNay, University of Cincinnati
--Tracy Neumann, Wayne State University

Region 4 (New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Puerto Rico, US Virgin Islands)
--William Field, Rutgers University
--Donna Murch, Rutgers University

Region 5 (Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont)
--Davarian Baldwin, Trinity College
--Afshan Jafar, Connecticut College

*Following submission of the nominating committee’s final report, the nominee withdrew his nomination on April 8.